We are sorry to have to chronicle the death of Elijah Gullion, who died at the residence of John S. Gullion on Saturday, the 20th of December. His home was near Emerson, Marion County, Mo., in which place he removed from his county about thirty years ago. He came to Kentucky last August to visit his brothers, John, Ben and Dock Gullion, not having been here for eighteen years before. Soon after his arrival he was stricken with that terrible foe, typhoid fever, and was prostrated by it for 13 weeks. His wife, who came soon after his long sickness began, remained with him until his death. The remains were taken to his home in Missouri for burial, Otis Bates, nephew of the deceased, accompanying the bereaved wife. Mr. Gullion was about 58 years of age. His wife and seven children survive.

The happy pair went directly to the grooms' home near town.

Jan 10 1885 Page 5 Column 3: Death of Mr. Richard P. Butler

Mr. Richard P. Butler, our oldest citizen died at his home in Carrollton on Thursday, January 8th, at about 2 o'clock, age 92 years, 3 months and 11 days. His death was not a surprise to any one as he had been quite feeble for several weeks. Every body heard the announcement with sorrow. He had passed so far beyond man's allotted time on earth, as to cause all to feel a keen interest in his well-far, with a hope that he might yet live many days, even to the age of five score years. Every person naturally felt proud of the man who had dwelt among us so long that no one now living in the community could remember when he came, for, in truth, he settled in Carrollton years before any of her inhabitants were born. All felt a reverence for the old man, who had witnessed the founding of the town with its development, and all the changes and vicissitudes that entered into her history. But, the esteem in which he was so universally held, has for its foundation more important facts than these already stated; for, the community without regard to class, honored and admired him for his superior intelligence and culture, for his benevolence and charity, for his sobriety and fair-dealing.

Mr. Butler was born at the mouth of the Little Hickman in Jessamine County, September 27, 1792. He was the third son of Percival Butler who emigrated to Jessamine county from Pennsylvania in 1784. The other sons were Major Thos. L. Butler who died at Louisville, 1881, aged 91 years, Gen. William O. Butler, who died in August 1880, aged 89 years, Pierce Buter who died about 1850, aged 56 years, and Edward Butler who died many years ago, aged 21 years. Mr. Butler also had five sisters, only one of whom is now living -- Mrs. Judge James Pryor, of Covington, who age is about 84 years. Another sister was the late Mrs. Dr. U. E. Ewing, of Louisville, who lived to quite an advanced age, while three other sisters died at the ages of 36, 54, and 58 years. About 1795 the parents of Mr. Butler moved from Jessamine county to May's Lick, Bullitt county, from there they moved to Carrollton in 1796, and here the father died in 1821 aged 61 years..

The subject of the sketch was named after his uncle Richard Butler who was killed in St. Clair's defeat in 1791. He was between 3 and 4 years old when he came to this place. His boyhood days were spent here until he entered Transylvania University. From this institution he graduated at an early age. He then began the study of law under Cabell Breckinridge and acquired a fine legal education, but never practiced. Judge Joseph Underwood, the famous jurist, was his classmate.

The war of 1812 was now going on, and the war spirit fairly blazed throughout Kentucky. Accordingly when the Governor called for 1500 additional troops, shortly after Gen. Hall's surrender, young Butler was one of more than 2,000 volunteers who assembled at Louisville under Gen. Samuel Hopkins and from there made the famous expedition against the Indian villages of the North West. young Butler's father who became Adjutant General when the State was formed, was Adjutant General in General Hopkins' expedition, and young Butler was his aid-de-camp. For his service, he was some years ago granted a pension. After the war he returned to his home and devoted himself to farming, which he followed with good success until about twelve years ago when he sold his farm. He was one of the most progressive farmers of the county, always first to adopt new methods and new machinery. He also figured prominently in the affairs of the county. It was he, more than any other man, who procured the organization of the county, overcoming much opposition; and he was its first clerk, as his father had been the first clerk of old Gallatin county. He filled this office some time but never held any other office, we believe.

He was married twice; first to Miss Bullock, as a fruit of which union there were four children, none of whom are alive. His only grandchildren are Mrs. X. Hawkins (daughter of Judge J. W. Menzies), Mrs. L. X. Taylor and Richard B. and Miss Carrie Powell. His last wife was a daughter of Dr. Blythe, of Hanover College fame, and there were not children born of the marriage. She died twenty odd years ago.

Mr. Butler was a member of the Presbyterian church, having joined it more than 50 years ago. He was a consistent and honored member, filling official places in the church most of the time. The funeral will take place from the Presbyterian church today at 10'oclock. Services by Rev. S. W. Blain, of Louisville, assisted by Rev. T. J. Godbey of this place.

The remains were interred in the old family burying ground on H. J. Whitehead's farm near town. [last paragraph from Jan 17, 1885, page 5]

Leonard W. Morton who was a typo on the Democrat a number of years ago, died at San Antonio, Texas, last Monday morning, where he had gone seeking restoration of his health. He was a bright young man and much liked by all who knew him. After leaving here he was for some time editor of the Trimble News. He had at different times edited several Texas weeklies and was always a reapid and efficient typo.

Page 5 Column 2: Last Saturday afternoon, at about 3 o'clock, Mrs. Caroline Butler Pryor, wife of Judge James Pryor, of Covington, died at the residence of Dr. L. X. Taylor, of this place, aged 86 years, 11 months and 13 days. She recently came here on account of the illness of her brother, Mr. Richard P. Butler, whose death we mentioned last week. The loss of her brother, no doubt, had much to do with her violent illness, but she had been quite feeble for some months. The cause of her death was paralysis. She was stricken a few days after Mr. Butler's death and it was at once evident that she could not recover. Funeral services were held Monday at the Presbyterian church, By. Rev. S. W. Blain, of Louisville, assisted by Rev. W. McD. Abbett, of this place. The interment took place in the Butler burying ground near town. Mrs. Pryor was the last ember of the remarkable and famous family of Butlers.

Jan 24, 1885 Page 5, Column 3 On last Friday morning about two o'clock J. Rowan Revill, of New Liberty, Owen County, was found by an employee of the Chesapeake & Ohio R. R. under the trestle of the shout route railroad in Louisville. He was removed to the city hospital and remained in an unconscious condition until the time of his death, Sunday afternoon. No verdict as to the cuase of his death has yet been arrived at by the coroner's jury. He was very prominent in all the public affairs of Owen county. He was buried Tuesday at New Liberty, with the honors of Odd Fellowship, having been a prominent member of that order during his life.

Jan 24, 1885 Page 5, Column 3-4: Jim Will Johnson and Dock Dunaway came together again Friday morning and the latter received a load of shot in the head and neck. Dock came to town immediately to have the shot picked out. He was as cool as a cucumber. Dr. Taylor relived him of his surplus lead. He says that he was passing through a gate near Johnson's house, on Mr. Bates' farm, a mile and a half above Prestonville, when Johnson came out upon his porch, 50 years distant, and, without warning, let him have it. Dock says he told Johnson to please shoot the other barrel in some other direction but he didn't fire the second shot. Dunaway swore out a warrant for Johnson, but no arrest has been made, as far as we are informed. These boys have been practicing on each other long enough. We may begin to expect a killing if they keep it up. It is only a few weeks since they had another shooting scrape in which both were badly wounded, Dunaway has tasted hot lead four times from three different persons and seems to be getting used to it. First Jim Ben Hayden tried him, then Lucien Evans, and now Johnson gives him a second trial. The wound in this case is not severe; had it not been for his overcoat collar it might have been otherwise.

Jan. 24, 1884 Page 6 column 5:

A singular case is reported from the town of Hampton, Livingston County. George Moxley, a prominent and wealthy citizen of that county, while quietly reading in his parlor the other afternoon, suddenly became wild, and with frightful shrieks threw himself upon the floor rolling over and over, then bounding to his feet and with an iron poker began to demolish the furniture, stoves, windows, everything which came in his way. Then while emitting most blood-curdling howls and cries his wife, in a paroxysm of fright, called in a neighbors, William Fleming, and son, who found the maniac entirely nude, having torn his clothing to tatters, casting it into the fire, and as they approached he threw himself upon all fours and rushed at them with threats and howls. He was captured finally, but broke the ropes as though they were pieces of cotton cord. Seven stout men finally secured the poor victim, who lingered a couple of days, when death relieved him. The deceased was quite and unobtrusive and not given to drink, and the malady did not partake of the nature of rabies.

Daniel Hillman, the great iron manufacturer of the Cumberland River in years gone, died recently in the Kentucky Insane Asylum at Hopkinsville. Mr. Hillman was at one time one of the wealthiest men in the country, his estates being valued way up in the millions, but reverses came, resulting in heavy losses, which unhinged his mind. He leaves two sons, Hart Hillman, of Nashville, and Tenny Hillman, of Birmingham, Ala.

February 7, 1885 Column 3: Ghent, Ky, Feb 5, Wednesday, at half past 12 o'clock, Richard Hawkins, son of Mrs. Amanda Hawkins, who lives tow miles below this place, went over to his neighbor, Charles Unser's house, and committed suicide by shooting himself through the head with a 38 caliber British bull dog revolver. There was no one on the place but Mr. Unser and his wife, who were totally ignorant of his intentions until he had fired the fatal shot. Before leaving his home, which is only about 200 yards from the Unser residence, he wrote a pathetic letter directed to his mother, who was away from home, stating that he was tired of life, being broken down in health and spirits, and that he preferred death to being a cripple for life, and only in this way. He also said that he had prepared to take his life while in the city of Covington, some time ago, but had concluded to wait until he came home. He also disposed of his property, asserting that he was in his right mind.

The many friends of Mrs. Hawkins and of her sons and daughter sympathize with them in their sorrow. Young Richard Hawkins, who ended his own life by suicide was a high minded young man, and, being a crippled and in poor health, preferred death rather than to live a life which might be a burden to his family. He seems to have fired the fatal shot from a sense of duty.

February 7, 1885 Last Thursday at half past one o'clock, at the residence of Calvin Scott, in Sharon, there was quite a pleasant wedding, the principals being Johnnie B. O'Neal and Miss Annie Hatcher, both of that neighborhood. The attendants were Charles W. Cox, of Carrollton, and Miss Bettie Tilton, of Sharon. The ceremony was beautiful and was said by Rev. Mr. White, of Ghent. Only relatives and close friends were present, but it is aid to have been quite a happy occasion. In a short while after the ceremony the happy couple accompanied by the attendants and a brother and sister of the bride, drove to Carrollton, arriving about 6 o'clock, and stopped at J. C. Webster's, Mrs. Webster being a sister of the new Mrs. O'Neal. They go today to home of the groom's father, Joel T. O'Neal, near Ghent, where they are tendered a reception. They then return to Sharon where they will live.

Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Lewis, near Worthville, have met with severe affliction in the loss of their only son, a bright and promising little one of two years. His disease was measles which terminated fatally last Saturday. The interment took place Sunday after noon. We tender our sincerest sympathy to the bereaved parents.

We are sorry to learn of the accidental killing of Uncle Whitson Johnson, near Worthville, on Thursday forenoon. Having cut down a tree on the river bank near Batesville, it hung on the stump, and he proceeded to chop it in two when it fell from the stump and something struck him on the back of the head. Whether he fell and received the injury by striking his head against the log, or was struck by some rebounding limb, we could not learn. However, he was knocked into the river, drawn out by his son-in-law, who was with him and died in about fifteen minutes. One or two others saw the accident. Coroner Kipping held an inquest and the substance of the verdict was accidental.

Page 1 Column 3 IN MEMORIAM Iva Bell The body of our dear friend is still and cold and the hand of Death has crowned his brow with an icy wreath. The dear eyes are closed and he sleeps beside his father and sister, who died a short time since. He suffered many weeks with typhoid fever, and the family and friends were made more sad each day, for it became evident that the dear boy was nearing the river of Time. He was in the twentieth year of his age.

A two-year old daughter of Samuel Rout, of Stanford, was burned to death during the temporary absence of her mother from the room.

The wife of John Small was shot and killed the other night at a tenement house on O. L. King's farm, near Millwood, Mason County. A dance was in progress, when Ben Robinson and Oscar Bennett got into a difficulty over something. After firing several shots in the house, they fought into the year. A ball from Bennett's passed through the frame partition, striking Mrs. Small in the head, penetrating her brain. The participants are under arrest. All are negroes.

Mr. J. L. Logan and Miss Sallie G. Harberson, a runaway couple from Lincoln county, were married at Harrodsburg, the other day.

Mr. Wm. Dudgeon, near Hammondsville, Hart County, committed suicide the other night, by cutting his throat. His seven months child died the other morning, and when it was reported to him that his wife was dying also he was overcome with grief. He went out behind the house, and in a few minutes a noise was heard, as though someone was struggling, by those in the house. He was a young man, and has been married only two years. The remains of Mr. Dudgeon, wife and child were placed in one coffin and interred in Hammondsville burying ground.

March 7, 1885

Page 1 Column 1, Pete Westrick, Jr. and Miss Sue Banks, are first on the list. They were married, Thursday of last week at Dickinson's hotel, Madison, by Elder Dobbs. Attendants were Willie Stockdale and wife, who had been married at the same place only a few days before. They remained in Madison over night and returned to the residence of John Westrick, on the following day, where they will remain a short time--until Pete completes his cage.

Then next on the docket comes Mr. Louis H. Brittenback and Miss Olive A. Taylor, who were married at the residence of the bride's father, Marion Taylor, at ten o'clock Sunday morning, by Elder George W. Thompson. The parties are quite young and if they are as faithful to each other in coming years, as they have been in the past, and we doubt not they will be, their days will be exceptionally happy.

One more. Handsome manly Willis [paper creased and last letter not visible], and winsome, rosy, Miss Emma Thompson, who were married at the residence of the bride's mother, by Elder Thompson, at 4 o'clock, Sunday afternoon. Page 1 column 3: Died: At his home in Carroll County, Ky., April 20, 1885, Mr. U. M. Taylor, in the 84th year of his age. He was born December 1st, 1800, in Garrard county, Ky. In 1823 he married Miss Elizabeth Ann Wharton, near Lancaster, who survives, in her 80th year a lonely mariner on the river of time, only waiting a little longer to be called to join the happy throng beyond the tide. They had walked and fought life's battles together for over 62 years. Father Taylor was one of a family of twelve children, six sons and six daughters, four of whom are still living -- three sisters and one brother, one of them older than himself. His posterity at his death numbered 80 as follows: 9 children, 51 grand children and 20 great grand children, of the whole number 56 are living and 24 dead; those living: Children 9 grand children 39 and great grand children 12; dead children four, grandchildren 12 and great grandchildren 8 . In 1836 he removed with his family from Garrard county, Ky. to a place near Canaan in Jefferson County, Ind. When that was a frontier settlement and the writer has often heard him speak of trading with the Indians on the spot where the little town of Canaan now stands. In 1830 he moved his family to Trimble county, Ky and in a few years purchased a farm in Carroll county, and moved on it in 1838, where he was living at the time of his death and on which he now lies buried near the dwelling, in a beautiful spot selected by himself years ago, 400 feet above the Ohio river on top of one of those rugged Kentucky hills that he loved so well. He was a man of more than ordinary intelligence in his day, a leader in the M. E. Church. Although born and educated in the midst of slavery he believed it to be wrong and opposed the institution from early youth, being a strong Union man during the late rebellion. He was one of the first to engage in the cultivation of fruits and vegetables for the Madison, Ind. Market and many of the older citizens can remember the large luscious peaches and fine melons he used to sell.

July 4, 1885 Page 5 Column 3 On last Monday morning at two o'clock, one of our oldest and best citizens, John Hogan, died at the family residence. Mr. Hogan was seventy-two years of age at the time of his death and had been a citizen of this place since the year 1848. . . . Mr. Hogan joined the Baptist church at this place 31 years ago and has been one of its most faithful members. He was next to the oldest member of the Odd Fellows' Lodge here at the time of his death, having become a member in the year 1856. He had filled all the offices of the Lodge with credit, having been Secretary for a number of years and filled the office to the satisfaction of all. . . . The funeral, which took place at the Baptist church Tuesday morning, was very largely attended by the many friends of the deceased. The services were conducted under the auspices of the lodge, many members of the order from Ghent and Vevay being present. Rev. E. Kirtley, of Vevay, preached a plain and impressive sermon, after which the remains were interred in the Odd Fellows' cemetery. Mr. Hogan leaves a wife, two sons--Dave and Ed, and two daughters--Miss Lizzie and Mrs. James Ringo to mourn the loss of a kind father and affectionate husband.

July 25, 1885 Page 1 Column 1 Died: On Saturday morning, July 18th, Mrs. Sarah A. Davis, wife of Wm. Davis, at her residence in Grass Hill, from abscess of the liver.

The funeral of the deceased was held at the Whites Run Christian church, of which she was a faithful member, on Sunday, July 19. A large concourse of sorrowing relatives and friends assembled to pay the last tribute of respect to the departed one. Elder D. M. Bridges preached a brief and appropriate discourse from 2d Cor. V Hap.

Mrs. Davis was a daughter of the late Wm. Spicer, one of Carroll county's old and respected citizens; she was married to Wm. Davis, January 29, 1939, and for 26 years they toiled together along life's weary road, accumulating quite a respectable property. She was the mother of five children, all daughters. One preceded her to the grave. The loss of this daughter grieved her sorely, she leaving a little babe, that again has been robbed of a mother before her death. She committed the little girl to one of her daughters -- one that will love and car for her with all the love and affection of a mother. The four are well known in this county as the wives of some of our most worthy and respectable citizens; and, be it said to the praise of the deceased that no mother could boast of a better set of children than could Mrs. Sarah Davis. For six long and weary weeks she bore her illness with Christian meekness and fortitude, but alas, the Death angel came and summoned her from earth to Heaven. She met death calmly and with resignation, saying that she had no dread of the grave and exhorting those she was living behind not to grieve after her. Mrs. Davis was a woman of sterling worth, a kind and loving mother, a good neighbor, loved and respected by all who knew her; a faithful and affectionate wife. . . .

July 25, 1885 Page 5 Column 2: We are pained to announce the death of Wesley Gardner, one of the cleverest men that ever lived in Carrollton. He died at the residence of his brother, John S. Gardner, in Madison, Ind., Last Monday, where he had been about a month. His age was 46 years. He was the son of Wm. Gardner, of this place, and had lived here the greater portion of his life. It is said that he was the first man to enlist in the Confederate service from Carroll county. He was a member of the famous "Southrons" from Vicksburg and officers and soldiers all agreed that he was a most gallant soldier. For a considerable time he was a courier under Gen. Longstreet and rendered such service as to win frequent praise from Gen. Longstreet and other officers. Mr. Gardner's remains were brought up on the Str. Kerr Monday morning and interred in the Odd Fellows' cemetery Tuesday morning, no funeral services being held.

On Wednesday evening at half after ten o'clock, Mrs. Lydia Scott, wife of our worthy citizen, Joseph Scott, died at her home on Second street after a protracted illness with something like cancer of the stomach. She was born in the city of Philadelphia on the 17th day of September, 1795, and was therefore 89 years, 10 months and 5 days old at the time of her death. She was married in 1838 to Mr. Scott in Delaware where her father then resided and in 1840 they came to Carrollton to live and remained here from that time until now. In 1842 she united with the Methodist Church here and she lived the remainder of her days a faithful and earnest member, doing her duty industriously in all the relations of life, and she died the death of the righteous--full of hope and full of faith, desiring only that "His will be done." The deceased was loved by all who knew her on account of her many good qualities, chief among which were gentleness, modesty and kindness. She never had any children of her own but she raised five children for others, one of them being Mrs. Henry Abbett, of this place, and orphan, to who she was a mother indeed. She was a cousin to Rev. McD. Abbett, of this place. The funeral took place from the Methodist Church Friday morning at 9 o'clock. Rev. T. J. Godbey preached a brief but appropriate discourse paying a tribute to the character of the deceased, and was followed by Rev. McD. Abbett, who in a few remarks referred to her more prominent virtues in a way which moved all to tears. The remains were interred in Odd Fellow' Cemetery.

Golden Wedding: last Tuesday, July 28th, was the 50th anniversary of the marriage of our worthy citizen, Leonard Leachman, and his "gude wife." The occasion was celebrated at his home near Blossom Hill, this county, by a family reunion which was attended by a number of friends.

Leoanrd Leachman and Miss Pauline Lewis were married July 28, 1835 at the residence of her father, John Lewis, a mile west of Worthville, where J. B. Lewis, a grandson of said John Lewis, now resides. They went to work immediatly to build them a home on the farm where they now live, and within two months from their marriage they had tone to housekeeping having moved into the house before the doors were made. From that day to this they have lived happily at the same place, enjoying all the time good health. At this time both are remarkable3 well preserved and all the indications are that they will live yet many years in the midst of their friends on earth. Ten children were born to them, seven daughters and three sons, eight of whom are now living,-- John L., Robert T., and Lewis V., Mrs. William Montgomery, Mrs. Asbury Ames, Mrs. W. P. McKinney, Mrs. Si. Cockerill, and Mrs. John SR. Stout. All of these were present except Jno. L., Robert, Mrs. McKinney and Mrs. Cockerill.

The other relatives present were Mr. Leachman's sister, Mrs. E. M. Clark and his niece, Mrs. Viola Leverett, both of Little Rock, Arkansas, Mrs. Leachman's brother, J. S. Lewis, and his son Sandford, and his daughter, Mrs. H. T. Mitchell, all of this county; also Miss Mary Leachman, a daughter of Judge Robert Leachman, of Meridian, Miss., who is a brother of Leonard Leachman. There were present ten grandchildren and two great grandchildren. Among others present were Mrs. D. W. L. Montgomery, of Lockport, Mr. Leachman's granddaughter-in law; W. O. Gullion and wife of Carrollton, and other friends and acquaintances. All enjoyed the day very much, reminiscences and anecdotes being freely indulged in, and not the least of the enjoyable features was the magnificent dinner.

August 8, 1885 Page 1 Column 2 Robert Morris, infant son of Elijah and Maggie Chatham, died Thursday night of last week, of cholera infantum, supplemented with brain fever. The remains were interred in the little cemetery on the farm of Allen Robinson, Friday afternoon.

On Friday morning of last week, about 3 o'clock, after a protracted illness, Uncle Tommy Bradley, peacefully, and apparently painlessly, obeyed the summons to "join the innumerable caravan that moves toward the realms where each must take his slumber in the silent halls of death." Mr. Bradley was about 75 years of age. He was twice married, his first wife being a Miss Patton, and his second wife, who survives him, being a Miss Ginn, sister to Mr. Robert Ginn, of Carrollton. By his first wife he had two sons, Jim and Will, both of whom were our comrades in the 4th Ky. Cav. Jim died in prison, was brought home and buried at Corn Creek Church. Will survives and will be at the re-union at Liberty Station. By his last wife he had three children, Bruce, Richard, and Thomas, all of whom survive him. Richard being in Kansas was not present at the obsequies. The remaining children were all here, as also was his sister in law Mrs. Shelton, two daughters in law, and his nephews, Frank and Prentice Falls. No other relatives being present. A touching and appropriate funeral discourse was preached by Elder L. S. Chilton, of the Baptist church. Mr. Bradley had long been a leading member and deacon of that church, and doubtless died "the death of the righteous." On Saturday afternoon he was buried in the cemetery at Corn Creek, where were already sleeping member of his family who had gone before. Fred Kipping of Carrollton, conducted the interment ceremonies taking the body to the grave, a distance of seven miles in his elegant hearse.

Obituary

Samuel S. Tandy, of Carroll county, Ky., who lived and spent his life in the Upper Whites Run neighborhood, after being afflicted for nearly ten years with paralysis and rheumatism, died August 13th, 1885, aged 62 years, 9 months and 28 days. He bore his affliction with unusual patience, cheerfulness and heroic fortitude. In his death his fond wife has lost a devoted husband, his children a loving father, his relatives and neighbors, a man of unswerving integrity. . . .

Norvin had recently qualified as constable of this district, and had been, for some years, a member of the Baptist church. He was popular with his associates, and was about 30 years of age. He had been afflicted with rheumatism for some years, and died of complication of diseases, consumption predominating, and being probably the immediate cause of his death.

THE RE-UNION

The 4th Ky. Cav. Came Together Again, Renew Acquaintances and Have a Glorious Time

Names, Notes and News.

Thursday, August 17th, re-union day, was ushered in with a clear sky and a cold crisp atmosphere. Every heart leaped with joy at the prospect of a happy day--a glorious re-union of that gallant and brave regiment which was without a superior, in either army, for lofty courage, cool daring, heroic fortitude and all those virtues which belong to true soldiers. Nearly every expectation was fully met, the principal disappointment being that Capt. E. O. Guerrant, Col. W. C. P. Breckinridge, Gen. Williams and other prominent men who had promised to attend, were not there. However, much as their presence would have delighted the thousands who assembled to honor the survivors of the 4th, it is almost impossible to conceive a more pleasant or more successful meeting than the one held. The committee had left nothing undone which could contribute to the pleasure of any one--plenty of seats, and efficient police force, excellent music; and the people provided a most bountiful dinner. From far and near, baskets poured in till they would have made a mountain, if in one pile. The crowd, which was estimated all the way from five to ten thousand, was fully provided for, and provisions were put back into the baskets.

But to give an account of events in the order of their occurrence, it will be necessary to go back to the previous day.

PRELIMINARY MEETING

Wednesday night, at the Christian church, there was a meeting of such soldiers as had arrived, for the purpose of making certain preliminary arrangements.

R. F. Harrison was made chairman and E. A. Gullion, of the "Democrat," secretary.

It was moved and carried that the chair appoint a committee on proments to consist of one from each company that composed the regiment. The chair then appointed Capt. Ben Duncan, Co. A.; Wm. Demit, Co. B; Lt. E. J. Sanders, Co. C; R. F. Garrard, Co. D; Capt. Sam Duncan, Co. E.; Capt. T. M. Barrett, Co. F; Richard Strother, Co. G; George Doyle, Co. H; Lt. A. W. Smith Co. I; Lt. H. H. Adcock, Co. K. Companies G, I, and K were not represented and members of other companies were appointed to represent them.

On motion and second the chair was directed to appoint a committee of three on resolutions. The chair appointed Richard Strother, Lieut. Sinnett Duncan and Lieut. H. H. Adcock as such committee.

The meeting then adjourned to meet at 8 o'clock a.m., Thursday.

Met at 8 o'clock, Thursday morning, pursuant to adjournment:

The committee on resolutions reported as follows:

Whereas, a call has been issued by members of the 4th Ky, Cavalry, CSA., for a re-union of said regiment, at Sanders Carroll county, on August 27th, 1885; and, whereas in response to the call a majority of the survivors have assembled, therefore, be it

Resolved; That in order to renew old acquaintances and keep alive the fraternal feeling heretofore existing among the members of the old regiment, a permanent organization be effected.

On motion and second the chair appointed one from each company as a committee on permanent organization.

The chair appointed Oscar Coleman, E. T. Craig, Thomas Violett, James McCandless, T. Rfisher, Robert Ellis, Wm. Moore, George Doyle, Joe Turner and Mick Gill.

The chair appointed, on motion and second, one from each company to serve with committee on arrangements as a committee to receive other members of the 4th as they should arrive in town during the day.

Hon. W. L. Vories then addressed the meeting in a speech which was a happy bledning of the humorous and the pathetic.

THURSDAY

Immense throngs came in on the morning trains. AT ten o'clock the crowd repaired to the grounds, just across Eagle Creek where the soldiers enrolled their names. Immediately afterward, the "grand rally" took place at which time Capt. Warren Montfort delivered an eloquent and well-timed address and was warmly cheered.

Next on the programme [sic]was an address from Gen. Bazil W. Duke, Gen. Duke delivered an excellent speech--by all odds the best of the day. It had good thought in it, was expressed in chaste English and was very appropriate throughout. We are sorry that we have not the speech for publication. Next came the dinner. Thousands ate at private tables and nearly as many more at the public table. Plenty to eat.

Senator W. M. Cravens then spoke, delivering an eloquent address. While he was speaking, the soldiers were drawn up in line before him and he addressed them as soldiers, referring to their valor, the cause for which they fought, &c., causing many a tear to flow. In response to "calls" Hon. W. P. Thorne, Judge J. W. Greene, Judge J. H. Dorman, Hon. J. W. Perry, Capt. H. S. Chilton, and Hon. Thomas J. McElrath, made speeches and entertained the audience very much. A number of funny anecdotees were told, while the pathetic was not wanting.

In the afternoon the committee on

PERMANENT ORGANIZATION

Reported as follows:

T. F. Violett, Pres.; Ed. T. Craig, Sec.; J. S. Turner, Treas, Committee: Capt. T. M. Barrett, Lieut. A. W. Smith, Alex. Rogers, R. F. Harrison,

A BRIEF HISTORY

Of the Regiment is as follows:

The companies which formed the nucleus of the 4th Kentucky, were four, and were organized about a mile beyond Owenton, on the 10th of September, 1862, by the election of H. L. Giltner, M. T. Pryor, Wm. R. Ray and J. T. Alexander as captains. Near Salyersville, Magoffin county, H. L. Giltner was made Colonel of the Regiment, which was numbered and called the Fourth Kentucky Cavalry. M. T. Pryor, was made Lieutenant-Colonel, and Nathan Parker Major. The regiment, when the ten companies were finally all organized, was as follows:

Company A--Trimble county, Capt. Wm. R. Ray, of Trimble County.

Company B--Carroll and Owen counties, Capt. John G. Scott of Carroll county.

Company C--Owen county, Capt J. t. Alexander, of Owen

Company D--Pendleton county, Capt. T. E. Moore, of Pendleton.

Company E--Trimble and Carroll counties, Capt. Sum Duncan, of Trimble county

Company F--Carroll county, Capt. T. M. Barrett, of Carroll County

Company G--Grant and Owen counties, Capt. J. T. Willis, of Grant

Company H--Oldham and Henry counties, Capt. R. O. Gathright.

Company I--Henry and Carroll counties, Capt. John Marshall, of Henry.
Company K--from various localities, Capt. E. D. Whitaker, of Carroll.

On the death of Major Parker, at Wythville, May 10th, 1864, Capt. Ray became major, and Ben Duncan, 1st Lieut. Became captain of Company A. On the death of Capt. Marshall, in Virginia, in the spring of 1865, Lieut. H. S. Chilton became captain of Company I.

The first active service the regiment saw--and that was before it was fully organized--was in the fall of 1862, in connection with Marshall's and Morgan's brigades, obstructing the retreat of the Federal General, George H. Mogan, in his retreat from Cumberland Gap.

The regiment was involved in forty-three engagements with the enemy, besides numerous skirmishes and including one winter's service under Longstreet when he was in East Tennessee and when engaged in the siege of Knoxville. It was first under Gen. Humphrey Marshall, and finally under Gen. John H. Morgan, until his death at Greenville, Tenn., in November, 1864. After the death of Morgan, Col. Giltner became and was, until the surrender, acting Brigadier-General. The last fight in which the regiment was engaged was at Marion, Va., after the surrender of Lee. It surrendered at Mt. Sterling, Ky., to Gen. Hobson, on the 30th of April, 1865, the men being paroled and allowed to go to their homes, there to remain until exchanged as prisoners of war. The officers were allowed to retain their side arms.

NOTES

Mr. Eddleman wore his old soldier cap.
Ed. Craig was a good worker to the last
The Trimble delegation was a good one. L. T. Garrard, Compny E., was the first man wounded in the 4th.
Dora Supplee was the only ex-Federal soldier in line. Hurrah for Dora!
Capt. Barrett out ranked all other officers of the 4th, who were presnet.
Col. H. L. Giltner was much missed, He is keeping hotel at Nicholasville.
Braynard Bayless had his faded "Gray Jacket" with him but didn't wear it.
Lieut. Archie Smith exhibited the last muster roll and pay roll of his company.
Uncle Johnnie Rogers was the oldest man in the regiment. He is yet as active as a cat.

A large U. S. flag, suspended from the bridge, waved over the speakers' stand. Miss Jessie Bridges and Mrs. Robt. Ellis made the flag and assisted on the decoration.

Capt. W. S. Bailey was conspicuous on the stand, with a badge of his regiment, 28th Miss.
We had less than one day to get up the proceedings Sorry we could not make our account longer.
There were 218 members of the 4th enrolled. Doubless there were some who failed to report their names.

Dr. Sam S. Scott did not bring "Stormy" with him. The doctor is in delicate health. The boys were glad to see him

Capt. Sam Duncan was a powerful magnet, drawing vast crowds around him. No man is more highly esteemed by the boys.

The Sanders people are good entertainers. Our host was John W. Davis, than whom there is not a better one on this mundane sphere.

Ed Craig and Bob Ellis, of the committee on arrangements, deserved special mention for their energy and zeal. Much of the success is due to them.

D. Braynard Bayless, who was on Giltner's staff, was there and was just 40 years old on that day. He is one of the brightest and most pleasant men we met.

Captains Ben and Sam Dunca, Barrett, Willis, Gathright, Chilton, Alexander, Moore and Whitaker are living. All except the last three were there. Capt. Scott is dead.

Dr. John Price Nuttall was one of the best talkers present. He lives in Madison, Ind., has quit the practice of medicine and entered the Baptist ministry, and now preaches for four churches.

This was really the second reunion of the "gallant 4th"; the first was at Bedford when the remains of the gallant Major Parker were brought home, at which time nearly all of the survivors were present.

There was one colored soldier in line, Ned Winburn, of Henry county. He was a member of Co. A., 6th Ky., and was an excellent soldier. He is now a No. 1 citizen. The boys were glad to shake with Ned.

The following ex-confederates passed through town Wednesday in an immense excursion wagon, owned and conducted by DeKalb Craig, of Madison: Lieut. Sinnett Duncan, Theophilus Fisher, Wm. Bhuchanan, David Detraz, Elijah Holsclaw, Joe Tom Rudd, Zibe King.

Capt. W. Love Garriott, who commanded the Buckner Guards, is now an invalid, suffering with paralysis caused by a wound received at Frankfort. No man received more attention than he did. He occupied a large wheel chair on the speaker's stand. His wife, a very intelligent and cultured woman, accompanied him.

Our efficeint town marshall, S. K. Taylor, was chief of the police force at the re-union and his portly form and handsome face was conspicuous to all day attending to his duties. No better man could have been selected. The most perfect order was maintained all day. It was remarkable, considering the immense crowd.

Mrs. Barbara Pryor, widow of the gallant Col. Tandy Pryor, was present, with several of her children. The old soldiers delighted to honor her. A badge was pinned on her shoulder and she was the only woman who wore one. She, of all others, was entitled to wear it--not only on account of her husband's services, but by reason of her own services, at home, to the South and to the prisoners.

If the speakers had said more about the dead--the gallant Pryor, Parker and Scott--more about mothers, wives, homes and "The girl I left behind me," and less about "constitutional law," "fundamental principles," "the resolutions of '98," and other like matters, their speeches would have touched the heart and ahd a much better effect than they did have. Many speakers are too prone to hug the people and harp on politics.

"Billie Roan," Capt. Adcock's horse which went through the war, was there and received more honors than any of the men. On this same horse Capt. A. Courted his wife before the war. Billie Roan went out with the regiment in '62 and returned in '65, never losing a day's service. His back was never sore and he was never sick a moment. A good portion of the time he was a courier horse, often carrying dispatches on dangerous errands, and he was always on the battle field. At the time of the surrender at Mt. Sterling, Capt. A. gave a woman $30. To bring the faithful steed through the lines, and thence he was brought home by other parties--at a cost of $65. He was foaled in Henry county and was 27 years old last June. Barring crippled knees he looks not more than 9 years old. He was caparisoned and ribboned on the parade ground and attracted much attention.

Next reunion at Carrollton.

September 5, 1885 Page 8 Column 2

Died August 22, 1885, at her home in Callao, Mo., Mrs. T. F. Owen, aged 50 years, 11 months and 9 days. Miss Malinda Batts was born September 3rd, 1834, Carroll County, Ky., and was married to Dr. T. F. Owen, February 5th, 1852, and moved to Linn County, Mo., in 1855, then to Callao, Mo., about the year 1865., where they lived until her death. In the year 1860 she became a member of the Christian church and was baptized by Elder J. n. Wright of Macon, Mo. Her character was known to be of gret devotion to her family and strict attention to her domestic affairs. She was the mother of five daughters, one who died in the year 1868. The four who survive her are Mrs. Sawyer, of Chilicothe, Mo; Mrs. Gates and mrs. Marmaduke of Callao, Mo., and Mrs. Beaman, of Chicago, Ill. For two or three years she has suffered more or less from a fatal disease, consumption. The last seven months she was not able to leave the sick room. Her mind was unusually clear until the last moment. She bore her much suffering with great forbearance and Christian fortitude. She frequently expressed herself as being perfectly reconciled unto her destiny in the sweet by and by. The funeral services were held at their residence, and conducted by Eler F. Theo. Mayhew, assisted by Rev. R. Mansfield, Elder J. leffler, and mrs. McCully. Her remains were placed in a metalec casket and buried in the Callao cemetery. Sanders, of Eagle Station, having made up their minds to unite their destiny, went over to Vevay, where in the parlor of the Henry House, they were joined together by Rev. Harvey Harris, at 4:30 o'clock, p.m. They returned here the same evening and were given a reception by the groom's parents, Uncle James Williams and wife, where they were congratulated by the young folks of town.

It has been known for some time that W. T. Furnish loved a farmer's pretty daughter, residing in the neighborhood of Eagle Station, and that the love was mutual and reciprocated by her. For reasons best know to them the parents of the young lady objected to the marriage. Knowing that the only solution for the difficulty was an elopement, and this they accomplished on Tuesday of last week. The young lady, Miss Anna Lowrance, was visiting near Carrollton, Mr. Furnish drove down to where she was and the two hid themselves to Vevay where they were joined by another couple, their attendants, Newton Cayton and Miss Mary T. Furnish. In the parlor of the Henry House they were united in wedlock. Rev. Harvey Harris officiating. They returned to the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Jacobs, near Eagle, where a sumptuous supper awaited them.

John Vawter Killed Lucian Evans.

On Tuesday, at Turners Station Lucian Evans was shot and killed by John Vawter. Of course, Evans was a bad man, in a certain sense, but he has a large number of influential friends, embracing some of the best citizens of the county. It will be remembered that when they had a difficulty over a year ago these same friends were severe against Vawter, asserting that he was the worst man of the two. Evans was harmless when sober. Vawter has many friends. The only particulars we have of the killing is the following dispatch to the to the Courier-Journal of Friday:

"News reached this place by telephone this morning that a shooting affair had taken place at Turner's Station, in Henry County, in which Lucian Evans was shot and instantly killed by John Vawter. A little over a year ago Evans and Vawter had a difficulty at a hotel at Turner's Station, in which Vawter was cut and shot by Evans, who was afterward tried in Circuit Court and sentenced to the penitentiary for one year. Evans at that time made a threat that he would kill John Vawter as soon as his term expired. He was released only a short time since, and when he met Vawter, who was accompanied by his little child, he (Evans) drew his revolver and fired two shots at Vawter without effect. Whereupon Vawter drew his revolver and fired, and the ball taking effect in the region of Evans' heart, killing him instantly. No examining trial has been held as yet. November 24, 1885, Page 1 Column 2 After the shooting of Lucien Evans last week J. W. Vawter surrendered at once to the officers. His examining trial was held Saturday, and as the killing was clearly in self-defense he was acquitted.
