Volume 2 - No. 1

Fall 1988

GREETINGS!

Your volunteer staff has completed its first year of publication effort and wishes to thank our many readers and subscribers for their ardent, as well as their financial, support.

With this current edition of Volume 2 we thought it might be helpful to enclose an index of articles that appeared in the four issues of the first volume. It might serve as a quick and easy reference in the future. The index can either be retained as part of this issue or be detached and placed with your copies of Volume 1, for those who keep them in a ring binder or letter size folder.

So much material has been submitted by you, our readers, that it just could not be included in this issue. We ask your patience and assure you that it will get into print in a forthcoming issue. Your support really has this 82-year old editor fired up! Thank you sincerely.

J. Seeger Kerns

JEDIDIAH TINGLE

Your editor is pleasantly surprised by the flow of literary talent which continues to surface among Tingle descendants. The following article by Mrs. Jackie Goldman of Waterloo, Ontario, Canada is a good example. It is interesting, well written and clearly documented. She graciously gives credit to David P. Shaw of Reston, Virginia, as well as your editor, for several of her sources of information.

Jackie, a member of our newsletter staff, is a descendant of Jedidiah and consequently of Hugh Tingle who emigrated to Maryland in 1669. She spells Jedidiah's name with an "i" between the "d"s. His name is spelled that way in his will, although many later references use the letter "e" between the "d"s. Herewith her story:

JEDIDIAH TINGLE

Jedidiah Tingle⁵ (Samuel⁴, Littleton³, Samuel², Hugh¹) was one of the earliest settlers of Turtle Creek Township in Warren County, Ohio. Jedidiah and his wife Elizabeth had a large family, and today their descendants live throughout the United States and Canada.

(8 May)

Jedidiah Tingle was born in 1766 in Cool Spring, Sussex County, Delaware.¹ He was the son of Samuel and Amy (Wyatt) Tingle and the grandson of Littleton and Margaret (Smith?) Tingle.² In 1792, probably after the death of his father, Jedidiah sold the family plantation "Tingle's Choice"³ and moved to Fayette County, Pennsylvania.⁴

Around this time he married Elizabeth Reeder (born January 4, 1776/1777 in Loudon County, Virginia).⁵ Circumstantial evidence strongly indicates that she was the daughter of David and Mary (Adams?) Reeder.⁶

In 1792 or 1793 Jedidiah and Elizabeth, along with the large Reeder family, settled in Columbia, Hamilton County, Ohio. A letter, written in 1851 by Dr. Ezra Ferris, states "Among the arrivals which were daily taking place at the stations along the river....I recollect one arrival of nine families, viz: David, Joseph, Daniel, Jacob, and Stephen Reeder, who were brothers: Thomas Hubbell, who was brother-in-law, and William Harper, Jeremiah Brann, and Mr. Tingley (Tingle) who had married daughters of the Reeder."⁷

On May 5, 1796 Jedidiah purchased a full section (640 acres) from Jacob Dayton in Hamilton County (Section 12, Township 4, Range 3). This property is now in Warren County, located about 1 1/2 miles east of the town of Lebanon in Turtle Creek Township. Here Jedidiah remained for the rest of his life. His large brick house is still standing today, with the initials "J.T." and the date "1817" set into a gable on the west side.⁸

On February 28, 1797 Jedidiah sold the south half of his section to David Reeder, this David Reeder being either a father-in-law or brother-in-law.

Jedidiah later bought more land in Warren County, as well as in Brookville, Indiana. He also planted the first apple orchard in that part of Warren County.⁹

Twelve of the fifteen children of Jedidiah and Elizabeth were:

| 12) Nathan J. | died Nov. 19, 1839 aged 21 years | |

Jedidiah Tingle died on April 2, 1827, his wife Elizabeth on September 5, 1844.¹⁰ His obituary in the Western Star newspaper reads "On Monday last, at his residence near this place, Jedidiah Tingle aged 61 years, after a short but severe illness succumbed. He was one of the earliest settlers in the country, and had long been known and esteemed for his strict morality and exemplary piety. He has left a wife and several children besides numerous friends to lament their loss."

A notable Tingle descendant was the wealthy philanthropist William Elmer Harmon. During the early 1900's Mr. Harmon made numerous gifts in the name of his deceased great-grandfather Jedidiah. His generosity was deeply appreciated by the many people he helped, though some were disconcerted at receiving a note signed "Jedidiah Tingle" and accompanied by a photograph of a tombstone.¹¹ The Warren County Historical Society in Ohio was among the organizations which Mr. Harmon funded.

Jedidiah Tingle --- possessor of a distinctive name, and also of the venturesome spirit unique to the early pioneers.

SOURCES:

1. Reminiscence of Asenath Tingle Wood in The History of Warren County, Ohio by W. H. Beers, p. 790. Mrs. Wood recalled that her father Jedidiah was born 1766 in Delaware.
2. Strongest evidence is the fact that Jedidiah Tingle sold the "Tingle's Choice" plantation which had been patented by Littleton Tingle, and then inherited by Littleton's son Samuel. Additional evidence is found in the correspondence, during the 1930's, of Mrs. Matilda Spicer Hart, genealogist. (Copies of these letters are in the possession of Mr. J. Seeger Kerns.) Summary of Mrs. Hart's correspondence: Tingle family tradition stated that Jedidiah's parents were Samuel Tingle and Amy Wyatt. Subsequent research found a marriage in 1764 in Cool Spring between a Tingle and a Wyatt, no first names given. Land records show that Samuel Tingle was living in Cool Spring at that time. Also living near the Tingle plantation was William Wyatt who had a daughter Amy. (In addition, two of Jedidiah's eldest children were Samuel and Amy).

Addendum Notes: by JO ANN R. RICE 1990

Jedediah Tingle was listed in the "PIONEERS OF INDIANA SOCIETY" book, as published by the INDIANA HISTORICAL SOCIETY. I sent a request to the Society of Pioneers, asking for copies of the original application...Mrs. Moudy, a Society staff member, found that Jedediah indeed lived and died in Ohio; eventhough he purchased much land in Brookville, Indiana, and Shelbyville, IN. All land records show his residence as Ohio. The application for "PIONEER" membership, was sent by JESMA DALE BELLMARD, in 1963. Copies of those application records, are included at this time, as pp. A-E.

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS:

1. The membership of the Society is confined to men and women one or more of whose ancestors settled in the State of Indiana before the close of the year established as the eligibility date for the county within the present boundaries of which such ancestor made his settlement. The list of counties with eligibility dates is given on the last page of this form.

2. If in proof of eligibility, reference is made to County History, U. S. Census Report or other printed matter, give the title, volume and page for easier verification. Quote the record verbatim if not too lengthy.

Furnish an exact copy of family Bible or tombstone references or similar records and also photostatic copy when such can conveniently be made.

3. A statement of any special public service which your ancestor rendered particularly contributing to the early development of the State will add interest to the record.

4. The affidavit of the applicant and of the supporting witness are both necessary to complete the application.

5. This application is for eligibility under one ancestor, who should preferably be the first settler in your line. If you are eligible for membership under more than one ancestor use "Additional Line" forms which will be furnished on request.

6. This application, when completed, should be mailed to the Registrar of the Society.

To the Board of Governors of Society of Indiana Pioneers:

The evidence that my said ancestor, through whom I claim eligibility, lived in Indiana at the time herein above stated, is as follows: A series of articles appearing in the Shelbyville weekly newspaper in 1908, written by a son of Daniel French; and copied by Mrs. Walter Wintin (deceased), member of Shelbyville Hist. Soc. The following excerpt from these articles was received from Mrs. Wintin in a letter dated Apr. 15, 1962.

"In 1820 father and grandfather Tingle came to Shelby County, Indiana and father bought 160 acres east of Middletown. Part of the town is on his land. Grandfather Tingle bought a half section where Waldron now stands and gave it to his son John Tingle. He bought 3⁸⁰ south of Middletown and gave it to his oldest daughter, Mrs. Solomon Beadle. He bought a half section on Conn's Creek above Middletown and gave the north quarter to Asenath Wood, his daughter and the south quarter to his youngest daughter, Catherine Boyd. He bought 80 acres near Shelbyville for my mother. It remained in the family until after father's death."

OBITUARY

Funeral Services for Beulah Rawls Tingle of Arapahoe, North Carolina were held on June 21 at the Bethany Christian Church. Mrs. Tingle died on June 18 in Massachusetts while visiting her daughter and family.

Born 19 January 1897 in Arapahoe, she was the daughter of Talmage H. Tingle and his wife, Beulah M. Rawls. She was a sixth generation descendant of James Tingle and his wife, Elizabeth Rowe. The roots of James Tingle were established in Craven County, N. C. in the early 1760's.

Mrs. Tingle was the mother of Dixie Tingle Willis, known to dozens of us as the tireless and indispensable member of our newsletter staff. We extend our sympathy to Dixie and her family upon the death of this venerable lady of ninety-one years.

WHICH BRANCH OF THE EXTENDED TINGLE FAMILY ARE YOU INTERESTED IN?

Mrs. Joan K. Tingle of Valley Center, California, as well as several other readers, has made an excellent suggestion. She proposes that we publish in the newsletter the names and addresses of our subscribers and the name or names of the specific TINGLE family branch in which that subscriber is interested. As your editor I am somewhat hesitant in doing this without the consent of our readers, even though I think it is a good idea. I should add that there are several libraries, genealogical and historical societies on our mailing list. And it is certainly not the intent of the staff to expose our mailing list of one hundred subscribers to solicitation by other sources.

If anyone is opposed to this idea will they please write to me and give me their thoughts on the matter? For those who like the idea I ask that they drop me a post card with their name and address and the specific family branch of TINGLES in which they are researching. This list could then be published in the next issue of TINGLE DESCENDANTS.

TINGLE DESCENDANTS

SOME TINGLES WHO SERVED IN THE WAR OF 1812

David P. Shaw of Reston, Va. has spent considerable time doing research at the National Archives in Washington, D.C. From microfilm (which is always difficult to read) he completed a list of names taken from indexes to the War of 1812. David says that this is not intended to be a complete listing of all TINGLES who served, but that it is a great way to start this type of research. More information is available by examining original documents connected to enlistments and/or persons. To prove military service, as well as to get details about the soldier, more research has to be done.

Listed below are a few - not all - of hereditary organizations devoted to perpetuating the memory of men who served their country in the War of 1812:

General Society of the War of 1812 (male descendants)

National Society, United States Daughters of 1812

Society of the War of 1812 in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

Veterans Corp. of Artillery, State of New York, Constituting the Military Society of the War of 1812.

The staff of TINGLE DESCENDANTS expresses its appreciation to David P. Shaw for his continuing interest in the publication of the family newsletter.
